Prevention and Stabilization Fund

State, Foreign Operations Appropriations Bill
Department of State
Title III
Section 7066

What is the Prevention and Stabilization Fund?
The Prevention and Stabilization Fund (PSF), administered by the Department of State and U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) through the Global Fragility Strategy, aims to avert violence, stabilize conflict-affected areas, address the root causes of fragility, and support locally driven solutions.

What do the funds support?
- Combating corruption, strengthening social cohesion, protecting human rights, promoting conflict reduction and reconciliation, engaging private-sector actors in peacebuilding, and reinforcing critical governance reforms.
- Anticipating and preventing conflict, supporting inclusive, locally driven political processes to help stabilize conflict-affected areas, engaging external partners in U.S. efforts, and improving and integrating interagency capabilities.
- Empowering marginalized groups by supporting gender inclusion and equity for underserved communities.

Foreign Aid Delivers
Announced in early 2023, the Prevention and Stabilization Fund will support the implementation of the U.S. Strategy to Prevent Conflict and Promote Stability, a ten-year initiative created under the bipartisan Global Fragility Act. With extensive consultations with local stakeholders in priority partner countries and regions, the U.S. government will invest resources and support locally driven solutions that strengthen the resilience of partner nations and civil society to address fragility challenges in countries at risk of or experiencing instability.
